Judging

It is the responsibility of the exhibitor to know the judging schedule. Animals must be in the ring promptly on call and a failure to comply with the order renders exhibitors liable to be ruled out of competing.

All livestock offered for premiums must have been the property of the owners thirty (30) days or longer, health papers are to be issued in the name of the exhibitor.

Should any animal awarded a prize be disqualified, the animals gaining the lower prizes shall move into the next higher position, if in the opinion of the judges, the animals are worthy of such prizes.

Over fitting of cattle will be discouraged.

Any artificial means used to change the form or shape of an animal will disqualify it from competition

ALL OTHER ENTRIES

Superintendent

Will verify entries were grown, produced or made since the last fair by the person whose name appears on the exhibit tag.

The Fair Management reserves the right to amend or add to these guidelines as its judgment may determine.

Will take reasonable care to protect all exhibits on display from all injury and damage but the Fair is not, in any way, to be held responsible for accidents, loss of damage by water, fire, theft, or otherwise, whatever may be the cause or extent of the damage or loss.

Will see that entries are made according to classification.

Will verify premiums, as listed, may be given for meritorious exhibits.

If entries are to be limited to residents of the county, or the specified area, this must be stated in the fair's premium book or tabloid under the rules section.

Reserve the right to bar from competition any entry of inferior quality and those not possessing sufficient merit to warrant recognition.

May provide duplicate ribbons in the event ribbons are stolen or destroyed. They will be provided at the close of the Fair or show and there will be no fee.

Reserves the right to remove any exhibit not worthy of viewing by the public.

MAY ENTER EXHIBITS IN THEIR OWN DEPARTMENTS, but neither they nor any other exhibitor may communicate with the judges during the time of determining the awards, except to answer questions proposed by the judges.

No exhibit may be removed before the close of the fair except by consent of the management of the fairs.

Exhibitors

Judging

In cases where there is no competition, judges may give an award such as they deem the exhibit is worthy to receive.

Same rule applies where there are fewer entries in any class than the number of premiums offered. The judges at their discretion, may award a ribbon or rosette. Any exhibit improperly entered will be disqualified to receive a premium, but the judges will mark the correct name on the entry tag for the benefit of the owner so the same mistake in entering need not be made the second time.

Judging is viewed as an educational process and the public is encouraged to view the judging event.

Fair Management

If the Fair Management believes any of the exhibits were shown in previous years, those entries may be refused.

Food products cannot be treated with any substance that causes them to become poisonous and unfit to be used for consumption. Any such incidents must be reported to the Pennsylvania Agricultural Fair Program for further review.

Recognizing the fact that it is not possible to list every desirable or worthwhile Class in each Section of each Department, and that fashion and fad—particularly in the areas of Needlecraft, Domestic Art, and Fine Art—may change the norm, it is intended that each Fair shall add or delete classes in what they perceive to be their own best interest. Each fair is to implement this effort based on available space. SUCH CHANGES SHALL NOT IN ANY WAY JEOPARDIZE THE PREMIUM REIMBURSEMENT UP TO THE MAXIMUM set forth in each Section of each Department.

It is permissible for each Fair to establish Supreme Champion Classes.
